

- Time for a new year!
Everyone is so busy all over town! How many of these can you spot?
- 7 chameleons
 - A missing sweater
 - 3 bunnies
 - A horse
 - 2 polar bear cubs
 - A sword
 - 13 birds
 - 11 candy canes
 - A bunch of fish
 - People dancing
 - A pogo stick
 - A top hat
 - 15 paper planes
 - (Bonus: who is throwing them?)
 - A fishing pole
 - 2 pairs of lost mittens
 - 2 ballerinas practicing
 - A teddy bear
 - 7 dogs
 - Bikes without riders
 - A car with headlights on
 - A yo-yo
 - Someone with pink hair
 - 2 bookcases
 - A bird's nest
 - 8 hair bows
 - People playing table tennis
- What other fun things do you see?

Jo Salazar is a nonbinary Peruvian-American illustrator focusing on children's literature, from PB to YA. At age two, her family moved from Lima, Peru, to Miami, Florida. Her passion for storytelling started before she could write when she acted out elaborate tales to her supportive parents and siblings. She loves working on stories centering on families and bodies of all kinds, goofy kids, cultural foods, magic, and queer joy.

www.josalazar.com @joeyillo

Represented by Taj McCoy: taj@reesagency.com